Osprey On Lake Monroe the osprey builds their nest and return to it year after year. The female osprey can lay 2-4 eggs in April or May and incubates them for a month. Having two chicks is most common with osprey families and sibling rivalry is rare. Once the chicks hatch the parents take turns feeding them. After two months the chicks will take their first flight and the parents will teach them how to hunt for fish. Soon the chicks will become independent.				1 Full Moon	2	3

Lake Monroe Bridge The Lake Monroe Bridge was originally built between 1932 and 1933 as a replacement for a wooden bridge that was manually operated. Built during the Great Depression, construction of the swing gear bridge provided economic relief. In addition, the bridge provided further relief by facilitating tourism in the area. The bridge was closed in 1994, it could no longer handle the volume of modern traffic. Part of the bridge can now be found in Lake Monroe Wayside Park along US 17-92 in Sanford where it serves as a fishing pier and overlook.						1

HISTORY OF THE SANFORD HISTORIC TRUST

The Sanford Historic Trust was formed in 1988 as a not-for-profit organization which serves to evaluate, protect and preserve the architectural and historical heritage of the city through education and stewardship.

The founding members were “urban pioneers” who were renovating historic homes in an area near downtown Sanford that had yet to be classified as a bona fide historic district. Their beautiful homes were sandwiched between other Grande Dames that had been sadly transformed into neglected rental units, abandoned homes, or repugnant crack houses.

Sanford received a big boost in 1989, when the city was placed on the National Register of Historic Places. With 434 residences and 29 commercial buildings of historic significance now on a national register, the trust gathered momentum. In 1991-92 they worked with world renowned architects and town planners, Andres Duany and Elizabeth Plater-Zyberk, to provide a master plan and an urban code that would preserve and promote Sanford’s unique historical qualities, while simultaneously encouraging growth. Plans were later finalized, fine-tuned and adopted by city officials.

The Sanford Historic Trust has initiated many other projects since its inception. The popular Holiday Tour of Homes is an annual fundraiser and showcases the city’s beautiful historic homes. Tour funds have been earmarked to residents with financial or physical needs for exterior home improvements or repairs, with additional funds assigned to city projects. Another project brought the National Main Street Program to Sanford. The Main Street Program advances preservation-based revitalization of commercial districts throughout the country. The Trust presents Historic Preservation Awards every May during National Preservation Week. First offered in 1993 and later partnered with the City of Sanford in 2007, the Historic Preservation Award recognizes good stewardship of Sanford’s most valuable asset - its historic structures.

In 2013 the Trust commissioned award-winning artist AI Carroll to design “Old Sanford Historic District” lamppost markers giving residents a sense of pride in place and let visitors know that they are in the Old Sanford Historic District.

A historic lamppost program, begun in 2003 in a partnership with the City of Sanford and later sponsored solely by the Trust, continues to spread light throughout the Historic District. Today, over 150 lampposts have been installed. As founding member Helen Hickey puts it, “The trust provided the spark that was needed to reinvigorate our community.”
